Version with modular key pad

VX 800 Telephone door entry system

You can find out who's at the door with the Videx VX800 telephone door entry system.

- ★ Your safety – you don't need to open the door
- ★ Your convenience – no need to go to the door
- ★ You have two way speech with visitors
- ★ You control door from telephone handset
- ★ Stainless steel fascia and buttons
- ★ Illuminated bell push
- ★ Several hand set capability

The VX800 employs the latest microprocessor controlled circuitry which, when it is combined with its tough stainless steel key pad, gives you trouble free controlled access to your premises – both commercial and domestic.

The stainless panel is lit by small light emitting diodes to aid you in dark locations.

The neat telephone hand set contains the door control button and doorbell sounder.

The VX900 includes an electronic key pad.
