This is a robust digital lock built for medium to heavy use. It operates like any latch lock, close the door and the door is locked. To open, use a code instead of a key. The code is customer selected and can be changed at any time - no need to call a locksmith.

Do not confuse it with inferior look-alikes. We use this lock because it has a proven track record with our Health Service clients for whom we have supplied and fitted hundreds.

You can be assured of long and trouble free service from the Lockwood.

The new DX range has improved durability still further. A new 'anti-sensory' feature helps prevent manipulation ('picking').

Application: Daytime security on internal and external doors. The Lockwood is not a 'security lock' and does not comply with your insurers requirement for when your building is not occupied.
